

Corporate template supports full width configurations for use with galleries or forums, make sure you do not publish any modules in left or right column and the \hat{A} component will fill the entire width.

